

Intel Unite + Door Tablet

Seamless Integration for Complete Meeting Management

Why Combine Intel Unite and Door Tablet

Combining Intel Unite, the in-room collaboration system, with the Door Tablet workspace management system ensures complete synergy between workspace management and in-room productivity. Door Tablet enables the right people to find the right room at the right time; once there, Intel Unite helps people collaborate while Door Tablet keeps track of time - so no more overruns, dropped agenda issues or hasty last-minute decision making.

Intel Unite + Door Tablet = complete meeting management inside and out

To understand the power of combining the two systems, it is important to understand what each does individually:

Complete Meeting Management, In and Out

The combination of Door Tablet with Intel Unite powers an elegant and powerful combined system.

Our system mainly operates outside of meeting spaces, while the Intel Unite system operates inside. The integration enables Door Tablet to communicate meeting times to the Intel Unite Hub inside the room. Door Tablet knows when the meeting should start and finish, and it keeps users aware of the passage of time as the meeting progresses.

We keep participants on track by:

- Showing when meetings start
- Showing progress through the meeting
- Warning of the approaching end
- We also reduce energy consumption by turning Unite monitors OFF when not needed

Also if no one checks into the room, it will send a warning email to participants that the room will be released.

The Door Tablet Motion Sensor can be connected to the UNITE hub over USB

Intel Unite hub commonly runs on Intel NUCs

By displaying regular schedule status updates during the meeting, Intel Unite + Door Tablet help ensure:

- Meetings run to time
- Meetings end on time
- Agendas are better addressed
- Issues are prioritised appropriately as the meeting evolves
- People in the room are fully aware of the time left for the meeting so they can prepare follow-up actions in good time
- Time-pressured, last-minute decision making are prevented
- Important issues are not rushed or skipped over because of poor time management

The result is that meetings flow smoothly, are productive and participants are not frustrated or feeling under time-pressure.

By combining Intel Unite and Door Tablet your company can be assured that you have the best system for not only managing rooms but also for what happens within them.
